Ratepayers Recommend Salaries Be Not Reduced

A representative meeting of ratepayers was held in the Alexandra School on Wednesday evening of last week, to consider the matter of salaries being paid to the public and High School teachers. Mayor Howatt was appointed chairman, and N. A. MacEachern secretary. After His Worship had reviewed the financial situation of Wetaskiwin, he called upon H. C. Cooke, chairman of the Public School Board, who read a report setting forth the action which had been taken by the School Board in the matter of salaries. An excerpt of Mr. Cooke's remarks is as follows:

Contracts with teachers being involved in this discussion, and realizing as I do from discussions which have arisen and questions that have been asked, that a great percentage of people do not realize the responsibility placed upon your representatives, the trustees, I feel it is my duty to explain this contract or agreement that I have to sign on behalf of the Board. It is a continuous contract, and no alterations can be made in it except by agreement of the teacher and approval of the Minister of Education. The School Act binds the Board and its successors in office for any continuous contract signed by the Chairman.

In Clause 4 the teacher agrees with the said Board and its successors to teach and conduct the school according to the provisions of the School Act.

Clause 5 outlines the vacation period and Clause 6 states that the agreement shall continue from year to year unless terminated. It also states that by giving 30 days notice we can terminate the agreement.

The chairman of the Board in 1929, Mr. Ed Moore, signed a continuous contract, on behalf of the Board, to pay the Principal $2800, with a $100 yearly increase, with no specifications as to maximum salary to be paid. Believing that a limit should be put in this agreement, I took the matter up with the Principal and he has agreed with this request.

One of the other High School contracts called for a $100 increase. Four of the High School contracts remain the same as last year. Your Board decided to re-negotiate all the High School staff and passed that resolution at the last regular meeting.

Our High School, under the principalship of Mr. McCollough, has attained a reputation for the highest efficiency. High School percentage of passes being 87, never before attained in Wetaskiwin. Your Board is anxious to maintain a high standard of efficiency and feel fully justified in re-negotiating all the High School staff, as they are all efficient and command splendid inspector's reports.

There is not a surplus of efficient High School teachers, and it is by comparison with a city like Red Deer and Camrose that we are convinced that the salaries are not too high. Red Deer and Camrose employ the same number of High School teachers and Red Deer pays $914 average more per teacher than Wetaskiwin.

Your Board has not been quite so fortunate in being able to hold all the Public School teachers. Two splendid teachers have sent in their resignations and we are sorry to lose them. Owing to a resolution that your Board passed at the last meeting, which stated that all public school teachers now on the staff would be reduced $100.00 each, and new teachers being engaged would receive $900.00 per year, we were asked by the teachers to hold a meeting with the Board to hear reasons why they should not be reduced. They advanced an argument, not by comparison with High School salaries, but on their own merits as teachers in public school. They maintained that, owing to the fact that they had no schedule for increase in good times, they were not in the same position as many other towns that were now making reductions. Many points were raised for consideration. We have promised to fully consider their arguments at our next meeting. We want satisfied teachers and I am satisfied the Board will consider fully the arguments advanced.

The foundation for the secondary education is being well laid by our Public School teachers, and never, since I have been on the Board, have I had a more efficient staff. The percentage of passes is very high.

Mr. Kulak, the Public School principal, stated on behalf of his staff, that knowing as they did that the fame of our High School for efficiency had travelled far and near, that the Public School teachers were aiming to make as good a record.

I have given a great deal of time and serious thought in the interest of Wetaskiwin schools. My aim is efficiency tempered with a desire to be fair to the teachers, and keeping always in mind the welfare of the pupils or students.

In engaging teachers, even in a time of depression, let us not think of them alone in terms of dollars and cents, but measure them as to efficiency and integrity, thinking of our sons and daughters, whose destiny they are helping to mould.

Several teachers, who have not been efficient in the past in Wetaskiwin, have cost us not one or two hundred dollars, but have cost Wetaskiwin ratepayers several hundred dollars.

As your elected representative, I will only consider teachers' salaries and contracts in your interests. Your Board has guarded your interests thus far regarding contracts by avoiding anything that savors of litigation, keeping in mind all the corporate powers vested in the Board by the School Act for the fulfillment of any contract or agreement made by it, realizing if we neglect or refuse to exercise this power we are personally liable for damages for the non-fulfillment of said contract or agreement. I thank you.

H. C. Cooke, Chairman Wetaskiwin School Board.

Mr. Kulak, representing the teachers of the Public School, stated several reasons why the salaries of the teachers should not be reduced.

A resolution was then presented to the meeting "That in view of Mr. Kulak's remarks, this meeting of ratepayers request the trustees to reconsider the whole salary question in the light of what Mr. Kulak has placed before this meeting and that special consideration be given to any returned soldiers who may be on the teaching staff and to all Canadian citizens."

After a general discussion, an amendment was introduced as follows: "That this meeting recommend to the School Board that existing contracts be cancelled and that new negotiations be opened, with a view to re-engaging teachers at a lower salary." After a general discussion in which many ideas were expressed, both the amendment and motion were lost. After a motion to the effect that the Public School teachers' salaries be not reduced this year, was endorsed, the meeting adjourned.

The bride was beautifully gowned in ivory crepe-back satin, and carried a bouquet of roses and lace fern. She was attended by Lydia Woitt, who wore a dress of rayon silk. The groom was supported by Emil Liske. After the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding supper was served to a large number of guests at the home of the bride's mother. The young couple were the recipients of a number of useful and beautiful gifts. They will make their home on the groom's farm, sixteen miles west of Wetaskiwin.

GOVERNMENT HIGHWAY TO GO FAST WATER TANK

The delegation from the City Council which interviewed the Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, in Edmonton on Friday last, report that they were received very cordially by the officials of the department. In a general discussion respecting the route of the proposed government highway through Wetaskiwin, the delegation was informed that the department had decided that the road would proceed on the west, turn outskirts of the city, as a survey of the proposed route had been made and tenders were already being invited for the work. It is expected that this work will be taken in hand with the least possible delay, and that this portion of the road will be completed early this summer. We understand the delegation was advised by the minister that the government was prepared to give Wetaskiwin some financial assistance in linking up the highway from Camrose as well as the road coming from south east of Wetaskiwin.

FAREWELL FOR REV. ELLIOTT AT LUCAS SCHOOL

Under the direction of Miss Corbett, a most pleasant event took place at Lucas school on Friday last, in the form of a farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Elliott, who are soon to leave the community, and who have conducted the Sunday school at that point for the past number of years, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Lassell and Mrs. Sam Lucas. After the usual class period, certificates and class pins were given to the beginners and primary groups. Tokens of esteem were passed between the teachers and Miss Corbett. The school presented Rev. Elliott with a genuine morocco purse and Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Lassell and Mrs. Lucas each with a beautiful box of correspondence cards. This was duly responded to and appreciated. Rev. Elliott apparently has enjoyed and been most faithful in his work at this point, which has been appreciated. Miss Corbett has been most gracious and helpful and in harmony with the work, which made it a pleasure for all. Mrs. Lassell offered prizes of New Testaments to be given in September to children completing a certain amount of memory work during the holidays. The afternoon closed with pleasing remarks by Rev. Elliott and a delightful luncheon was served by Mrs. Lucas and Miss Corbett.

A business man tried for a couple of years to decide whether he would advertise or not. But the decision was made for him by the sheriff who advertised the place for sale.

Wetaskiwin Now Perched on Top in Soccer League

On June 10th, Red Deer visited Wetaskiwin in search of Central Alberta league points. The visitors arrived with an unbeaten record and were expected to return with that record intact. The locals fielded the following team: Goal, Treleven; Defenders, Scholoff; halves, Maxwell, Hawkins and Lidgett; forwards, W. Maxwell, A. Lidgett, R. Wallis, E. Lee, J. Jeffries.

In the first few moments Red Deer overplayed the home team and several misplays threatened danger, but Treleven was not called upon and the home team rapidly settled down. The halves played a strong working game, and with Skog and Scholoff playing a sound game at back, the Red Deer forwards were a very subdued quintette and the game resolved itself into a duel between the Wetaskiwin attack and the Red Deer defence. The Red Deer backs were playing a good game and the goalie excelled himself, playing a splendid game and averting what appeared to be certain goals. During the first half A. Lidgett got the ball into the net, but as the player handed the ball the goal did not count and half time arrived with the score sheet blank.

The second half was largely a repetition of the first, all the Wetaskiwin forwards having hard luck in having their best efforts just miss the posts or crossbar, or else saved by the goal keeper. A penalty was given against Red Deer and Skog scored from the spot. Owing to an infringement, however, the kick had to be re-taken. This time the goal keeper saved Skog's shot, still leaving no score on either side. Time was now rapidly approaching and in an endeavour to break the deadlock, Scholoff went to centre forward, and almost immediately obtained the ball, dribbled past the defenders and smashed in a terrific shot that struck the under side of the crossbar and through the goal, giving the goal keeper no chance to save. Full time arrived soon after with the score unchanged, Wetaskiwin 1, Red Deer 0.

On Friday Wetaskiwin journeyed to Red Deer for the return game. The only change in team was the substitution of Dickson for Hawkins as centre half. Red Deer were on their mettle and fully determined to wipe out the defeat at Wetaskiwin. As both teams were bracketed equal at the top of the league, both were determined to win. Soon after the start Red Deer had a great slice of luck. A long shot from the right wing came along the ground. To everyone's amazement, Treleven in the Wetaskiwin goal completely misjudged it and allowed it to roll into the net, making Red Deer one up. Further bad luck followed for Wetaskiwin, Ray Wallis, while heading the ball, receiving a severe kick in the face, cuttling it deeply just below the eye and necessitating medical attention. E. Lee also got a kick in the thigh muscles and was practically a passenger afterwards. Playing one man short and one crippled, Wetaskiwin were hard pressed to hold their own.

Just before half time Ray Wallis, with one eye closed and bandaged, resumed his place but naturally lost much of his effectiveness. Half time arrived with no change in the score. Red Deer 1, Wetaskiwin 0.

Wetaskiwin reshuffled their team for the second half, Billy Maxwell going to right back, R. Wallis and E. Lee forming the right wing and Dickson going to centre half. Play was fairly even until midway through the half, when Dickson put in a splendid piece of individual play, finishing with a great shot, beating the Red Deer goalie and putting the teams even. Wetaskiwin now went all out for the winning goal, and added no doubt by the vociferous handful of supporters on the sidelines, they penned the Red Deer players and very soon Jeffries on the left wing broke through and with a great cross shot put Wetaskiwin ahead. Full time was soon called with the score Wetaskiwin 2, Red Deer 1.

This win puts Wetaskiwin on top of the league with a lead of two points and a game in hand.

The Wetaskiwin players were considerably hampered by the hard ground and light ball, and found much difficulty in controlling the ball, all played to win, and Wetaskiwin is to be congratulated on possessing such a team of triers, who have already put Wetaskiwin on the football map of Alberta.

The next league game scheduled at home will be played on Wednesday, the 24th. On account of the difficulty of the opponents (Red Deer) to come so far, the game will be played on the Ponoka ground. Kickoff at 7:30. It is hoped as many supporters as possible will come to Ponoka and support the boys.

The boys mean to win this league and have also entered several cup competitions, and there is no reason why they should not win some of these, but one thing is necessary. They must have the support of the town, and so far they have not had the support they have merited. Every home game means an away game, entailing travelling expenses, and the boys have not had financial support sufficient to pay their out of pocket expenses. Wetaskiwin has the nucleus of a splendid team and every sport loving citizen should make a point of helping and supporting them and making it possible for them to fulfil their engagements and bring home the bacon to Wetaskiwin. Next league game in Wetaskiwin is versus Ponoka, Friday, June 26th, at 7:30 p.m. It is expected that one of the Edmonton Senior League clubs will come down to meet the boys in the near future, and give them a real test of their ability.

SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT NORTH OF CITY ON SUNDAY

A serious automobile accident took place near the home of E. Reynolds north of Wetaskiwin on Sunday afternoon last, when a car driven by W. E. Morrison, collided head-on with a car going south driven by C. Ranche. In a dense cloud of dust being raised by a car ahead Mr. Morrison claimed he did not see Mr. Ranche's car approaching, as he turned out to overtake the car ahead of him. The impact was very heavy, with the result that both cars were badly damaged. Mr. Morrison was accompanied by ladies, while Mr. Ranche was alone, and the occupants of both cars received a bad shaking up, but no serious injuries were received, with the exception of Mr. Morrison, who had a knee cap smashed. The damage to both cars is covered by insurance.

The tourist was enjoying for the first time the dry climate of Alberta. "Doesn't it ever rain in this country?" he asked a native.

"Rain?" the native replied. "Why, there's frogs in this town over five years old that hadn't learned to swim yet."

Gives Talk on Banks and Banking at Kiwanis

Kiwanian C. C. Watson, manager of the Wetaskiwin branch of the Bank of Montreal, was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon on Tuesday evening, and he gave a very enlightening address on Canadian banks and banking. At the outset he referred to the steps necessary for incorporation. Any five men can start a bank, but they must satisfy the banking committee that they are qualified and can furnish the necessary $500,000. The Bank Act is revised every ten years. Money is called the medium of exchange, or measure of value. Mr. Watson then proceeded to explain the monetary system in Canada, and the arrangements that the banks have with the Dominion of Canada to loan money and to carry on general banking business. It has been stated that the interest rates charged by the banks are too high, but the speaker stated that the rate was controlled in a large measure by the risk, and the greater the risk the greater the rate. If the banks could make loans without any losses the rate would be lower than at the present time. The bank must have deposits before it can make loans. A man's character is taken into consideration when granting a loan, and another consideration is whether the borrower has the ability or capacity to repay the loan. In conclusion the speaker suggested that the public look at the bank's side of the situation and they will easily understand why the bank cannot make loans under certain conditions.

A report of the committee having charge of the Boys' Camp was given and a committee consisting of Kiwanians Grant, Wright and Gunderson was appointed to act on a joint committee with the Elks to put on a Jitney dance and small carnival on August 11th and 12th.

J. E. Fraser, President, C. H. Russell, secretary, and V. C. French, district treasurer, were named as delegates to attend the district convention at Edmonton on August 23rd. It was announced that John Bue, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, would be the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting to be held at the Coal Lake hall on Wednesday afternoon of next week.

of tenure for the teacher and we can declare unhesitatingly that teachers are now placed in an impossible predicament. If they insist on honesty in promotions (and the exception will prove the rule that they will) they are in for abundance of trouble. Imagine one lone teacher plucking the hundred and forty or fifty pound avoirdupois sent to Grade VIII, or Grade IX, by the school board at Pumpkin.

"Obviously that teacher will be fired!"
"Let there be no hypocritical pretence to the contrary. Thus, if we are honest teachers and possess the courage that ought to be divided between the department and ourselves, a definite line is in store for teachers, and therefore for education, if the worst comes to the worst and any significant number of teachers not possessing such vast store of courage, prove dishonest, the promotions will be in danger of developing into a farce or falsehood—another disaster for education. In the meantime it is to be expected that there will be a series of delightful humiliations on the necessity of strict honesty and professional dignity in doing the promoting! The teacher will be reminded by all and sundry that he will lose reputation and caste if he promotes too freely—"Rather lose your job than lose caste."

"OLD SOL" PEPPERS
US WITH MEDICINE

"Free medicine folks, walk up and cure your free medicine. Greatest cure-all in the world and it's free!" This is not, as you might think, a patent-medicine seller's spiel. It's just to remind you that the open season for sunlight has commenced and that sunlight is the greatest "unpatented" medicine in the world, even though it is only recently that we have begun to realize just how important it is.

Do you know that when sunlight falls upon your skin it makes a kind of food which your body needs very badly? This "food" is known as Vitamin D. You've probably heard about Vitamin D because a great deal has been written and talked about it during recent years. The reason why people take cod liver oil is that it is rich in Vitamin D but cod liver oil is only a substitute for sunlight. The vitamin is produced in the cod's liver by the action of sunlight and you get it second-hand. It is much better to get it first hand which in Canada one can do most easily in the summer time. Sunlight when it falls upon your skin produces a certain chemical reaction and this reaction produces Vitamin D.

Now the moral of this article is a very simple one. Get out into the sunlight as much as you can this summer and get your full share of this greatest of all medicines. It is possibly even more important that children should do so than grown-ups because some authorities claim that in this northern climate almost all children have at least a touch at some time in their lives of the disease known as rickets. This disease is caused by lack of Vitamin D which the system needs in building good, strong, shapely bones.

There is one very important thing to remember however. If the sunlight is to affect your skin as it must do to produce this health giving result the rays must fall directly upon the bare skin. Even if they pass through glass or the lightest of clothing the invisible rays which produce Vitamin D are filtered and do not reach the skin. At the same time one must be careful in taking sun baths to go easy at first; otherwise that painful and well-known phenomenon sunburn, will result, but while taking this precaution one to it that you get out in the sun this summer as much as possible wearing as few clothes as modesty and the local police force will permit.

THE LIBERAL
FINANCIAL POLICY

Hon. J. L. Ralston, the chief Liberal critic, moved on June 4 the following amendment in the Commons to the motion to adopt the Budget:

Whereas there exists throughout Canada grave depression accompanied by widespread unemployment and distress;

And whereas the depression has deepened and unemployment widened as a result of the fiscal policy of the government, set forth in the special session of 1930;

And whereas, as indicated by the fiscal measures now submitted, the government proposes to continue the policy then inaugurated;

This House regrets that:

1. The policies of the administration do not contain any specific provision for the relief of unemployment.

2. The effect of the fiscal measures proposed will be to intensify the stagnation of trade brought about largely by the disparity between the prices received by those who must sell their products in the world's markets and the price which must be paid for goods and services in a highly protected market.

3. The proposed increases in taxation, both direct and indirect, will fall most heavily on those least able to bear the burden thereof, whilst there are decreases proposed in taxation which will relieve those whose incomes render them most capable of paying a greater share of the expense of administration.

4. The effect of increased customs tariffs and other restrictions and obstacles to trade will be to curtail consumption and the volume of exports upon which the buying power and prosperity of the country so largely depend.

5. The legislation of the special session of 1930 which it is now proposed to supplement, deprives the elected representatives of the people of that direct and full measure of control of tariff and taxation which belongs to parliament.

And this house is of the opinion that the existing economic depression can only be overcome by policies which are of a character:

- To relieve unemployment;
- To restore to a condition of parity the relation between the purchasing power of all classes;
- To bring about more equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation;
- To encourage the expansion of the external trade of the country, and
- To restore to parliament its full authority over tariff and taxation.

DESTRUCTION OF 14,000
PESTS IS PREDICTED

The crow and magpie, notorious robbers and killers, are being given a hot time of it throughout the Hanna district as a result of the annual Crow and Magpie Competition held by Odell's Limited. Nearly twice as many animals are competing this year, over 1900, there being 24 contestants with over 500 points each, to date. As many more are entered, whose scores are below that number.

Some idea of the importance of this competition may be gained from the report as at noon, Saturday, June 6, when 8,605 eggs had been turned in to the Odell firm, together with 391 pairs of crow and magpie feet. Comparing the figures with those of last year, would appear that the total number of pests destroyed will run in the neighborhood of 14,000 with the competition to run until July 1.

LITTLE DEBTS

Among the countless solutions of the trade depression problem advocated by wise men, soothsayers, neomancers and astrologers, there has not, until this week, been suggested the simple process of liquidating the burden of small debts already contracted, so that the way may be cleared for granting new credit.

A Woodstock, Ontario, judge has, however, set the ball rolling by committing a man to jail for spending on luxuries the money that should have paid a small account long past due. Human nature revolts at thought of reviving the jail penalty for debt, as applied in times past. But much might be said in favor of discriminating in the collection of small debts. It is not far from the mark to say that a general liquidation of small accounts would do more to revive prosperity than all the pretentious relief features, moratoriums and does that frenzied finance has sanctioned.

Lately in debt enforcement has fostered the craze for luxuries and non-essentials resulting in contempt for obligations which used to be held sacred. The legislature and the courts are doing a good service in protecting debtors made so by adverse fortune. But they might do a still braver service by providing an inexpensive means of applying thumb screws to such as can pay, but will not.—Estevan Mercury.

A Hayseed

THERE was a time, even within the memory of many who are now living, when the chap who made a living by tilling the soil was popularly known as a country hayseed. His coat was cut in ancient style, his trousers were pants of the high water type, and his boots were cowhide through and through and looked it. His shirt was of homespun, his collar—his headgear in summer was of straw from the oat stalks of the field he cultivated and in winter of fur pieces cut and sewed together from the home tanned skin of the very calf whose head he soured into a pail of sweet milk to force upon its simple brain a knowledge of drinking milk respectfully before its natural time. Tradition says, moreover, that with the seeds and chaff of ripened hay still sticking in the shoulders of his home-made, full-cloth coat, he sat in the front seat—there were no pews then—of the corner's church on Sunday mornings. A hayseed! A country hayseed!

But the world moves—we were nearly going to say forward, but we'll leave it at that—and the country robe of the old days moves with it. He has learned that his business is not only among the most honorable but that it is among the most highly scientific in the world. He has gained respect and attention as the years roll by. Men of other occupations have learned a thing or two, also. Each knows that his prosperity or lack of it reflects the conditions of farming. Herein lies the reason why there is a practically unanimous interest in and support of the greatest World Exhibition and Conference ever held at any time, a friendly competitive exhibition of the best grain and seed that the best growers in the world are able to produce, a conference of practical farmers and scientific experts from all over the world, to take place at Regina in 1932.

In addition the farmer has, with his fellows, organized gigantic co-operative business agencies. He leads effective political battalions in every country. From the premier's bench on the floor of the "Ouse," as the veteran and respected Langley, of Saskatchewan, would say, he addresses Mr. Speaker, another tiller of the soil. He's an agronomist or a horticulturist, certainly a bit pinched just now, but he's doing as well as the other fellow. He'll wiggle out of his difficulties some day. He's doing better.

And this house is of the opinion that the existing economic depression can only be overcome by policies which are of a character:

- To relieve unemployment;
- To restore to a condition of parity the relation between the purchasing power of all classes;
- To bring about more equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation;

Life's Work Is Hobby, Too

Mechanics are hobbyists as well as the life's work of Henry Blane Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, Canadian Pacific Railway, who has an up-to-date machineshop in the basement of his Montreal home. Here he has invented a number of tools now in use throughout the vast shop system of the company and built a series of model stationary and marine engines, to the great delight of his three sons. He came into particular prominence recently as the builder of the C.P.R.'s new giant, "8000" type, multi-pressure locomotive, the biggest and most powerful of its kind in the world and unique among the American continent, destined for heavy duty in the Rocky Mountains.

The picture shows a workshop in which many of Mr. Bowen's inventions are on display. The model marine engine, shown lower right, is the latest product of the hobby-shop. Although it is only four inches high and could almost be housed in a cigar box, it is complete in the minutest detail and can develop 4000 revolutions a minute. It offers an interesting contrast when considered in comparison with the newest mammoth locomotive. Mr. Bowen built them both.

MUST HORSES BE BEATEN?

If one is to believe witnesses in a magistrate's court in a small central Alberta town recently, a balky horse simply has to be beaten to make it work. A farmer was accused of ill-treating a horse so badly that it died. In spite of the evidence given by witnesses whom he had called, he was found guilty and fined $25 and costs—which will appeal to many as a light enough sentence, even though he was forced to seek the aid of his friends to raise enough money to avoid the alternative of thirty days in jail.

Some of the evidence is so unusual as to be worth reviewing. A witness for the crown stated he had visited the accused's farm and watched him beat the horse in question for twenty minutes with an iron rod. During this time the horse lay on the ground and made only one attempt to rise. Another crown witness saw the same spectacle and offered it as his opinion that it was probably impossible to make this horse work, but added he would not bother trying.

When it came the turn of witnesses for the accused, the sentiment in favor of pounding the horse was almost unanimous. One man said he had worked this horse and found it could not be worked "unless it was beaten almost to death." He added he had driven horses all his life and that most balky horses had to be beaten. He declared, however, he had never actually killed a horse by beating it. Another witness agreed this horse had to be thrashed. He did not think "it was possible to be too severe with it." He made a practice of using a willow club or the end of a line in beating horses. The accused himself declared he had only acted "as practically every farmer would have done with the animal," and that the crown witnesses themselves were "guilty of greater cruelty on occasions." He advised them to read the eighth chapter of the gospel according to St. John.

"Is it necessary to say that?" she asked.

"Well, as a matter of fact, he has not done anything," she said. "I haven't got a husband, but I'm engaged to a man and I just wanted to see how easy I could get a divorce in case of need."—Boston Transcript.

Then there came a day when a friend suggested I try Burdock Blood Bitters. Well, I did, and after the first bottle my face was fairly well cleared up of the pimples, and I was feeling that I had more life in me, and before the end of the second bottle I was like a different man; full of energy, and could eat, sleep and work like a young man of twenty-five should. I have the third bottle on hand, not that I need a tonic, but I intend to always take an occasional dose of B.B.B., as I want to keep the Bitter I have acquired with its help."

Ottawa Weekly Letter

(By W. Irvine, M.P. for Wetaskiwin)

The Budget debate is dragging along, with little enthusiasm either in the part of those criticizing or those defending it. There is some talk of the debate ending on Tuesday next, but it is hardly likely that this will be so, although it would be much more intelligent to deal with the Budget item by item in Committee than it is to discuss it in a general way such as is customary during the Budget debate. Some Liberals are expressing the opinion that they would rather have the vote on the Budget and move amendments to certain proposals in the Budget with which they do not agree when the Supply Bill is in the Committee stage.

How should a farmer representative vote on this Budget? Should he vote for the Budget and a bonus of five cents a bushel on wheat, or should he vote against the Budget and against the reduction of income tax on the higher incomes? These are only two of the many matters with which the Budget deals. I mention them here because of their importance and also to illustrate the absurdity of voting Yes or No for a blanket Budget. Personally, I have no hesitation in saying that I want to vote for a five cent bonus on wheat, and I want to vote against the reduction of income tax; but both are included in the one Budget—both must be settled with one vote. I hope the farmers who read this letter will be kind enough to write me a note telling me how they would vote where I am. My view is frankly, in respect to this predicament which independent thinking Members of the House find themselves in when voting on the Budget, that the co-operating groups should have taken a decided stand for a new policy at this Session, the beginning of a new Parliament. The motion before the House when the Budget is adopted is merely that the Speaker leave the chair and the House form itself into a Committee of Ways and Means to consider all the items of which the Budget is composed. It is true in Party practice a vote for or against the Budget has always been regarded as important for the two Parties, and hence the Budget debate is a pitched battle between the two political organizations which continuously strive for power. In my opinion, there was a good opportunity this year for the co-operating groups to stand clearly to Parliament that from now henceforth we would vote that every Budget be allowed to go into the Committee stage, and then when it gets there, we would indicate our intention to move amendments to every detail in the Budget with which we disagree. This course would free us from the Party conflict; would enable us to consider each issue on its merits, and above all, would free us from the stupidity of either voting against the things we want because there are some things in the Budget we do not like, or voting for the things we do not want because there are a few things in the Budget that we like.

But for reasons good or bad, the Progressive Groups have decided to follow the Party psychology and Party methods of discussion once more. In keeping with Party methods we have moved an amendment to the Budget. Virtually, our amendment amounts to a request that, temporarily, Canada should disregard the gold basis in her financing. With this view I entirely agree, but I regret that it should have been presented as an amendment to the Budget, since being moved in that connection it is doomed to inevitable defeat involving, as it does, a want of confidence in the administration, and the administration having a very large majority in the House.

Our amendment will, however, afford us an opportunity to discuss the merits of more intelligent financing in relation to the present industrial crisis, and at the same time enable us to vote against the Budget and also the amendment of the Liberals. Beyond these ends nothing can come of our amendment.

The most general regret on the part of those so far taking part in the debate has been that no provision whatsoever has been made in the Budget for unemployment relief, nor has there been indicated any policy which would afford reasonable hope of improvement to any marked degree of the unemployment situation. Personally, however, I do not think that the Budget is the proper place and time to make provision for unemployment relief. There are several reasons for this; I will give only one at the moment, and that is that it would be impossible to arrive at any definite amount since it is impossible to say at this time how much money will be required to relieve unemployment from this date to the 31st of March next. It would, therefore, be better for the Government to obtain authority from Parliament to spend whatever amount of money may be required, and to receive that authority by special legislation dealing exclusively with unemployment. In view of the situation as it exists in respect to unemployment in the country, I feel reasonably sure that the Government will not permit the Session to close until some provision is made to relieve any distress which may result from the inability of people to find employment.

Events are daily making it more evident that some fundamental change in the economic system must be effected before the economic difficulties from which we now suffer can be removed. The whole question is—how shall such changes be effected? The civilized peoples are gradually being divided into three camps. In one camp they are clamouring for revolution; in another they are advocating fundamental changes by process of evolution, and everything will come out alright if in the third they are saying that we only leave them alone. Perhaps most people agree with the evolutionary school, but if so, it is high time that we recognized the responsibilities which the evolutionary method involves. Revolution is the last resort of misery and ignorance, and is usually engendered by the inaction of those who believe in the eternal character of the present system. If, therefore, we are to avoid a catastrophe by adopting evolutionary means, the nation must commit itself to intelligent direction of its economic life with a view of utilizing every economic agency for the purpose of satisfying human needs. The profit motive, if it is to be entertained at all, must be secondary. The primary object of every industry must be to serve human need, and it must be the business of the Government to see that profit incentive does not thwart that purpose. Canada, like every other civilized country, is gradually being pushed by events to the verge of this great decision. Shall we allow ourselves to drift into revolution in the aimless stream of competitive economies, or shall we, by intelligent planning, control and direct that stream so that it may serve us rather than destroy us?

So far even the critics of the Government's policy, who deplore the lack of any provision for the unemployed situation, are singularly barren of any constructive suggestion. It appears to me that in times like these, faced as we are with the most desperate situation, as well as one fraught with incalculable human suffering, all Parties and Groups should lay aside their political wranglings and unite to save the nation, and let Parliament take care of itself for awhile.

SETTLER TEACHERS HAVE SALARIES REDUCED

The School Board, at its meeting on Monday night, drew up a new schedule of salaries, which have been revised to meet current conditions. This step was taken after long consideration in view of the fact that the staff have been doing good work during the past few years. But it was thought an equitable arrangement would be made if the salaries for all grades be put back to what they were a year ago. The public school teachers work on a definite schedule, there being an increase of $50.00 each year up to the maximum of $1,200 for the Grades up to 7, and $1,400 in Grade 8. In the high school the increases are well set out and arranged. No increases were given in any Grade this year, but all salaries were put back to the amounts received for each position for the term ending June 30th, 1930. The minimum for new teachers in the public school was fixed at $1,000.00. The saving to the ratepayers amounts to $1,200 this coming year, starting from September 1st, and as most ratepayers are up against it, they will welcome this reduction in the expense of running the public and high schools.—Independent.

CONFERENCE ON JOBLESS HELD AT PARLIAMENT BLDGS.

Edmonton, June 11.—That the cities' share of workless relief is too burdensome and should be adjusted, while the general problem is becoming more acute, were arguments advanced when the municipal-provincial conference on unemployment opened Thursday morning in Premier Brownlee's office at the parliament buildings.

Mayors of seven cities are in attendance at the sessions, which are not open to the press or public. Representatives of Edmonton, Calgary, Wetaskiwin, Red Deer, Drumheller, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat are attending the parley.

From the south comes the demand for a new apportionment of relief costs. It is claimed, for instance, that the $650 relief work system does not work out on an even basis, and that the cities are practically carrying 60 per cent. Also, it is pointed out that cities

In granting relief attract unemployed from district points. The result is that, outside districts have light relief costs, while the burden is on the cities which have been registering the unemployed.

Calgary has between 4,500 and 5,000 unemployed, according to Mayor Davidson, while Mayor Barrowman states that Lethbridge has at least 1,000.

EDMONTON MAKES PREPARATION TO SUPPRESS RIOTING

Helmetsed horsemen made ready to cope with the rising tide of red in Edmonton as khaki clad cavalry, four officers and 59 men of the Strathcona horse de-trained from a special train at the C.P.R. station at 4 a.m. on Saturday and rode through the city to quarters at the Prince of Wales armories.

Captain F. W. M. Harvey, V.C., M.C., one of the most distinguished junior officers on the western front during the World war, is in charge of the detachment. They are in full campaign equipment, with steel hats, rifles and machine guns. Both horses and men are in the pink of condition.

With many of them wearing war ribbons and medals, the men looked capable of coping with a hundred times their number of the central Europeans, who have flooded this city during the past few days, and whose attitude has become increasingly threatening.

It is not the intention of the cavalry to parade down-town or in any way make any show of armed strength or otherwise "provoke" any incidents. They are simply being held in reserve at the call of the authorities, and will not be doing police work. Their function will begin when and if the police powers prove inadequate.—Bulletin.

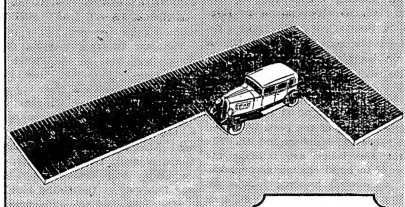

GOVERNMENT CHANGING ROAD NORTH OF WETASKIWIN

Edmonton, June 11.—Tenders are being called for by the department of public works for a number of new road construction projects, including both earth grading and graveling, in various parts of the province. They will be opened June 16, and contracts will then be awarded.

Four pieces of standard earth grade work will be done, as follows: between Islay and Lloydminster, 29 miles, the last section of the Edmonton-Lloydminster road to be brought up to standard; an extension of the Edmonton-Wainwright highway from Tofield to Holden, 22½ miles; extension of the Camrose east highway from Daysdale to Sedgewick, 25 miles; extension of the Lethbridge-Medicine Hat highway from Taber to Grassy Lake, 20 miles.

Some revisions of the Edmonton-Calgary highway will be made between Leduc and Wetaskiwin. A small steel bridge has been built across a creek about three miles south of Millet, and a contract is now to be given for straightening

Another Argument for Pasteurization

SEPTIC SORE THROAT was introduced to us in America, so to speak, by Boston, Brooklyn and Cambridge, in the spring of 1911, and since that time recurring epidemics have taken a heavy toll of raw milk users. In spite of the various publications on the subject and the teaching of milk experts and sanitarians generally, we cannot escape the conclusion that the disease is too little considered, and even health officers are not as much awake to the necessities of the case as they should be, though we express this opinion with full sympathy for the legal and technical difficulties which confront many of them in their official work.

The latest epidemic to attract wide attention occurred in Lee, Mass., in June and July, 1928. Lee is a town of 4,000 inhabitants. Within approximately two weeks, 950 people suffered from septic sore throat, and 48 died as a result. The outbreak was carefully studied epidemiologically and bacteriologically, so that we have an exact and clear account of it.

We cannot do better than to emphasize the views of experts who point out that in spite of our knowledge and insistence on protection of water supplies, our attempts at enforcing sanitary laws in regards to milk often meet with discouragement and lack of sympathy on the part of consumers, and with distinct opposition on the part of producers and distributors.

Septic sore throat is due to a hemolytic streptococcus, usually of the epidemic type and is practically exclusively a milk-borne disease. Fortunately the streptococcus is comparatively easily killed by heat, so that even ordinary pasteurization will render a milk supply safe.

Among other important features brought out in the investigations, two are of especially practical value—the apparent responsibility of a single cow, and the fact that an infected quarter may not show gross lesions, and produce milk of apparently normal character. One cow in an otherwise healthy herd showed distinct disease in the front quarter, the milk from which had been excluded. However, the hind quarter on the same side, though apparently healthy, and giving milk of apparently good quality, was found to contain great numbers of the S. epidemicus. The animal was kept under observation for two months, during which time samples of milk were frequently examined. The two right quarters remained normal in appearance and negative for S. epidemicus. We must recognize that dairymen not infrequently use the milk from one or more quarters of a diseased udder.

Our only protection at present against this, as well as against other milk-borne diseases, is PROPER PASTEURIZATION. Once again we wish to insist that all market milk should be pasteurized. IN THIS LIES OUR ONLY SAFETY AGAINST MILK-BORNE DISEASES.

The Sports Association are utilizing the material to build seating accommodation for several hundred people, extending for a considerable distance along the north side of the track, where everybody can see everything.

Congratulations From the East
Miss Ruth Ferguson of Toronto, secretary of the W.A.A.F. of C., writes: "Congratulations on the manner in which you are going about the Championships. Am quite enthused about the letterhead, envelopes and publicity you are giving this meet. We will certainly do all we can at this end."

Will Be Record-Holders
Boys under 16 and boys under 14 winning events in the provincial championships, will not only be recognized as Alberta champions, but their names will be recorded in the official records of the Alberta Branch, Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, this being the first year in which championships will have been conducted for the 16 and 14 year classes.

Much Olympic Talent Here
Its dollars to doughnuts that the majority of the winners in the Canadian Women's Championships will represent Canada at the Olympic Games to be held at Los Angeles next year. You can depend upon there being entries from the Pacific slope and from the far East.

Are Decided Novelties
The several hurdle races and the javelin throw will be decided novelties. Never before have these events been placed on a local program, and these events in themselves will be particularly interesting.

Falun Is Going Strong
Out Falun way considerable interest is being manifested and regular workouts are being conducted. Mr. B. W. Bellamy has been paying periodic visits to coach the youthful aspirants and expresses the opinion that there is some most promising talent.

Real Community Spirit
A travelling "midway" shop wanted to get in here for August 10, 11 and 12, and a representative met officials of the local Elks and Kiwanis club. "Nothing doing!" was the reply. "The August sportsfest is a community affair. We're for Wetaskiwin—we're for the sportsfest. So to do along!" This co-operative action sure pleases the central committee. It shows the service clubs are strong for the big days.

Cardston Coming Strong
Charlie Cheneau, the veteran sport mogul of Cardston, writes that he will be sending quite a string of athletes to the big meet, of both sexes. Medicine Hat and Calgary coaches have several athletes in training for the occasion.

Bench Will Be Represented
His Honor Judge J. A. Jackson of Lethbridge, will probably be one of the dignitaries here for the meet. He writes from Vancouver that he expects to be in on the big show, and incidentally renew acquaintances.

Chinese Patient (on telephone):

SHE WAS ALWAYS LEFT BEHIND

SHE NEVER seemed to have the pep that the other girls had. Nor was she so good-looking either. Her complexion was sallow. Wrinkles had appeared—years too soon. Little wonder that men found excuses when her name was mentioned. What a pity that so many girls lose beauty as soon as they are very often caused by the poisons of constipation. This could be prevented, easily, pleasantly... by eating a delicious cereal.

Two tablespoonsfuls of Kellogg's All-Brans, eaten daily, are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal.

BROWNIES HAVE PROMOTION EXERCISES AT LAST MEETING

The last Brownie meeting of the season was held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday, June 9th. Our guests were warm officers from the sister organizations, Guides, Rangers, Cubs. Five 2nd class badges were presented by Brown Owl to the following Brownies: Jeanne Kingzett, Marie Nowell, Beryl Gilchrist, Shirley Smith and Ethel Parker. This was followed by the Grand Owl.

First-class badges were presented to Marian Manley, Jennie Ketchin, Sylvia Bidingger and Grace Rice. This was followed by a Fly-up ceremony, which is always viewed with mixed feelings by a Brown Owl, for it means that her Brownies are about to leave her and step into a new life.

Those Brownies going up to Guides were the 1st class Brownies mentioned above, and Betty Palfrey, who qualified for her badge some time ago. They were received by Captain Walker of the Guides, and Mary Vanhulzen, Company Leader.

Service stars were presented to the following Brownies for attendance at 75 per cent of the meetings held during the season: Jeanne Kingzett, Betty Palfrey, Jeanne Kingzett, Grace Templeman, Jennie Ketchin, Marie Nowell, Helen Burkholder, Shirley Smith, Dorene Snyder, Doris Schreiffels, Sylvia Bidingger, Beryl Gilchrist, Ruth Barry, Jean Duitman.

Two Brownies, Jennie Ketchin and Betty Palfrey had a perfect attendance. Marian Manley and Jennie Ketchin qualified for a three-year service star.

Then followed refreshments after which the Brownies formed their fairy ring and the following prizes were given out:

Prize to Betty Palfrey for having been first to gain her 1st Class badge. Prize to Marie Nowell for having been first to gain her 2nd Class badge. Prize to the Little People's Six for obtaining most points for attendance, uniform, deportment, etc. The Sixer of this Six is Sylvia Bidingger.

Miss Robinson, the Tawny Owl, then said a few words expressing the regret of the pack at the coming removal of Mrs. Kingzett, the Brown Owl, to Edmonton, and asked her to accept a gift as a remembrance of her work with them.

Brown Owl replied very feelingly, thanking the Brownies for their good wishes and asking them to be loyal to their new leader as they had been to her.

Jeanne Kingzett was then presented with a book, also Betty Kingzett, who has been the Pack's popular little mascot for over a year.

Brown Owl then said goodbye to the Pack, and the meeting closed with the singing of Taps.

FIVE CENT GALLON CUT ON FUEL COST MADE BY COMPANY

Toronto, June 10.—Reduction in price of five cents per gallon on tractor kerosene and of 15 per cent on tractor lubricating oils, throughout the prairie provinces, effective June 10, was announced Tuesday by John McNeill, director in charge of marketing, Imperial Oil Company, Limited.

Reasons for the reduction were explained in a statement accompanying the announcement. "This reduction is possible," it said, "because of recent recessions in the price of crude oil upon which the cost of all petroleum products is predicted. As this recession in crude oil prices would permit a reduction of only a fraction of a cent on gasoline prices which it would be difficult to extend to the consumer on account of increased sales tax, it has been decided to extend the entire benefit to the Western farmer, who is a large user."

of kerosene and lubricating oil for power farming equipment. "Unfavorable crop conditions and low prices still harass the Prairie farmer and the decision to reduce prices on tractor kerosene and tractor lubricating oil was reached in the hope that it would enable him to lower his operating costs and thus make a large margin upon the season's operations."

The new price will average 16.3 cents, the lowest at which it has ever been sold—Calgary Albertan.

WINFIELD

The recent rains have been very welcome to farmer for growing grain, gardens and grass, and to harassed firefighters in general.

Last week was a busy one for Miss Phillips, district nurse of Pendryl. She was called upon to attend two workers at a neighboring mill who had injured hands; Mr. Ginter, who had a bad fall from a wagon, alighting upon his back and head, and Mrs. Johnson's two little boys, one with boils on his back and one with abscessed teeth.

NEW ENGINE INVENTED BY CANADIAN ATTRACTS INTEREST

Windsor, Ont., June 15.—After twenty years of effort William MacKirdy of Windsor, is ready to offer for market an engine which is declared to be revolutionary and in many ways not comparable with anything now on the market.

The inventor describes his product as a combination of the Diesel principle of internal combustion, that is burning fuel oil under high pressure, and the principle of the steam wherein the surplus heat of the Diesel—at present lost in water jackets—is utilized in generating a highly super-heated steam. It has all the virtues of the Diesel practice and the steam principle, with none of the disadvantages, it is asserted.

When Sir Henry Britain, director of D. Napier and Sons of England, visited Detroit recently he crossed the river for the express purpose of examining the engine. On his request complete plans of an engine for a mammoth flying boat have been forwarded to England.

HOME SWEEP AWAY WITH MOTHER AND BOY, MINE FLOODS

Drumheller, Alta., June 17.—A cloudburst that pitched thousands of gallons of water over the town of Wayne as if poured from a giant pitcher, Tuesday night swept a house away, killed a mother and her son, flooded the Excelsior mine, ruined roads and flooded basements.

Early Wednesday morning volunteers from Drumheller, Wayne, Rose Dale and other mining towns nearby were searching for the house and its two occupants, who have met certain death. It is not known if the house, a small dwelling, was carried into the rising waters of Rosebud creek.

Pouring out of the dark skies in tremendous volume, water swept down the Excelsior hill and picked up the little home of James Graham and carried it to an unknown fate.

CENTRAL ALBERTA GETS HEAVY RAIN

Reg. Deer, June 17.—The heavy rain which fell here during the early hours of Tuesday morning brought the precipitation total up to a little over one inch, for the last 10-day period, according to official figures.

The rain was general throughout the district, penetrating far into the ground and should take care of the drought situation. Before the rain came crops were practically at a standstill and in the Three Hills and Didsbury district they were blistered out the land by the scorching sun.

Soil drifting which was prevalent in the district came to an end for the time being at least with the copious supply of moisture.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS POWERS TO BORROW UP TO $750,000,000

Ottawa, June 13.—Borrowing powers to the extent of $750,000,000 are sought by the government under the terms of a resolution which has been placed on the order paper of the House of Commons. The resolution, which stands in the name of the Minister of Finance, will form the basis for a bill to come down later.

At the finance department it was explained Friday the measure does not imply further financing at present. The government, it was stated, must derive its borrowing powers from parliament under statutes similar to the one now being introduced. Authority to borrow to the extent of $500,000,000 was obtained in 1928, when Hon. James Robb was minister of finance, but this has been exhausted and the government must come to parliament again. The legislation, it was explained, is not earmarked for the purpose of refunding any part of maturing obligations of the Dominion.

work to be done on highways in this Municipality, be done by residents of this Municipality, under a foreman appointed by the Provincial Dept. of Public Works. Carried.

Coun. Bussard introduced a by-law appropriating the sum of $100 to be distributed among the schools of this Municipality in prizes, according to the number of points gained by each school, for the destruction of animal pests. The bylaw was given the necessary three readings and finally passed.

A discussion took place as to the advisability of stopping the road work program for the present, owing to the drought and the serious condition of agriculture at the present time. It was decided that should conditions not change during the next week, that the Reeve should call a special meeting of the Council and the matter further discussed.

Moved by Coun. Thompson that the bills and paysheets be passed. Carried.

The meeting adjourned.

Ponoka, June 13. — Ponoka beat Lacombe in a soccer league fixture played Thursday night by a score of 3-0. A goodly number of fans witnessed a well-contested game considering the greasy condition of the ground and hail owing to heavy rain fall prior to kick-off. Camrose, June 15. — The Camrose council at the last meeting decided to take immediate action to aid the 100 unemployed men here, by rushing public work along.
Work will commence immediately on sidewalks in the west end of the town and the storm sewer, which is near completion will be rushed to a finish.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a weekly report of the Edmonton Stock Yards for the week ending June 16th, as supplied to The Times:

Receipts: Cattle, 303; calves, 90; hogs, 1163; sheep, 144.

There is a better feeling noticeable on the cattle market. The demand seems to be somewhat broader and in consequence salesmen are moving their offerings quite freely. Sales so far this week indicate an upward tendency and prices are fully 50c and in spots 50c per hundred higher as compared with last week. This is particularly true of heavyweight butcher steers and heifers.

Fed calves are selling at $4.75 to $5.25; bulk of the goods to choice lightweight steers and heifers selling at $4.50 to $5.00; medium kinds, $4.00 to $4.50 and common to fair, $3.50 to $4.00. Good heavy steers from $4.50 to $4.80. Bulk of the good butcher cows are selling at $3.25 to $3.50; choice handweights up to $3.75; common to medium kinds from $2.25 to $3.00; canners and cutters, $1.00 to $2.00; bulls $1.50 to $2.25.

The stockers are moving fairly freely and are selling at fully steady values with the general run of steers and heifers selling at $3.50 to $4.25; cows $2.50 to $3.25.

No material change noticeable in the calf market. Good to choice light vealers going at $5.00 to $6.00, with common to medium calves selling at $3.25 to $3.50.

Hog market showing a firm tone so far this week. Trucked in hogs sold at $7.35 to $7.40 for the bacon. Selects bringing a premium of 50c per hundred and butchers being discounted 50c per hundred. The following are the cuts on the offgrade hogs: Heavies $1.50; extra heavies, $2.00; No. 1 sows $3.50 flat, No. 2 sows $3.00, roughs $2.50 flat, stags $2.20 flat.

The sheep market is inclined to be somewhat on the dull order, as buyers are indifferent in their attitude. The general run of lambs are selling from $7.00 to $8.00; choice would bring up to $8.50; yearlings $5.00 to $6.00, and ewes $3.00 to $4.00.

THE OPTIMIST'S OPPORTUNITY

The time to be an optimist is when the stuff is off the list. As matters are at present. When things are hitting on the high. And people hurry in to buy. It's easy to be pleasant—But he's an optimist; for fair. Who grins when someone pulls his hair.

The time to smile is when the cloud has hid the sun, is when the crowd is groaning and complaining. It's every work to run and shout. When every little star is out. But not when it is raining—But he's an optimist all right. Who whistles thru the darkest night.

The very kind of optimist for me, The kind we very seldom see, The honest optimist—Is optimism that can smile.

When suffering with business bile Or gout or rheumatism—You folks who like to sing and dance. You never had a better chance.

LITTLE TASKS

(By Barbara B. Brooks)
The deeds for which we are accountable and which we accomplish through our own efforts are the ones which are most outstanding in our lives. Even the least ambitious of us welcome little responsibilities to stabilize our importance. The small child who is so dependent in many life situations is benefited greatly by little tasks, which he is capable of executing, and which make him feel some responsibility for his own well-being. Too many mothers over-rear their children, allowing them to grow into backboneless men and women who are incapable of bearing any burdens on their shoulders. When they try, they often find that they are not strong enough.

The wise woman will assign certain tasks to her children. She will have them dry dishes, make their own beds, do their bit of cleaning of the house or the lawn and help to get the meals. The task of preparing a meal is doubly important to many children. The younger generation sometimes finds itself at a table unaware of any previous food preparation, and is expected to eat what is put before him. Often the dishes are unfamiliar and unappealing to the child's fancy and yet he is told to eat that which he does not understand. In many cases the urge need not be repeated. On the other hand, dealing with less healthy and normal children there must be a lot of coaxing and bribing done. This method of nourishing the child improves the disposition of neither the parent or the child. If your child is one of those who have to be wheedled into eating, don't you think that an interest in food could be created by allowing the child to help in the preparation of his meals? If he is familiar with the foods before he sees them on the table and has had a hand in the preparation of them his interest cannot help but be increased. His pride in the part which he played in their present appearance will cause him to partake of them.

The menus, being simple, the children of the household might often prepare their whole meal. For example, a supper of cream of tomato soup, cabbage and pineapple salad, whole wheat bread and butter, and a dessert of a dish of corn flakes with honey and milk is easily fixed. There are many good kinds of canned tomato soup on the market which are delicious when an equal part of milk is added to the contents of the can.

Every child likes to turn a food chopper and that is the method we suggest for chopping the cabbage for the salad. The pineapple should be the canned, grated kind. Add a bit of mayonnaise and the dish is finished! Ready sliced bread used on such occasions may eliminate some minor accidents. The dessert is one which should be familiar to all children not only as something good to eat but they should be familiar with the package and the food and health value of the cereal. It should be understood that if nothing is offered for a light meal but crisp cereal, fruit and milk that it is adequate. This type of a meal is certainly one for which any youngster could feel responsible and that is what every child needs. A day's plans which include little tasks for the children involves not only their physical improvement but their mental improvement as well.

HILLSIDE
The annual picnic of the Hillside U.F.A. will be held at the Hillside school grounds on Saturday, June 20th, commencing at 10:30 a.m. There will be a full line of sports for men, women and children. Oh yes, Dorothy Anderson was well aware of the plans her mother had made for her dear daughter's future.

By marrying Phil Larsen, the son of her mother's girlhood chum, she would fulfill her mother's greatest desire. As yet Dorothy had never met Phil, and hoped to go to him to meet him you're mistaken.

The Mother of Seven Children Used It for Diarrhoea

Mrs. Ray Drinkwater, R.R. No. 2, Hagenville, Ont., writes—"I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die. My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again. My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same results."

Aunt Anne's with the rest of the party. As she slipped into her party dress she wondered if Phil would be there. She found herself almost hoping that he would. Well, anyway, she needn't be more than polite to him. She descended the stairway slowly, curiously watching the dancers. She thought she knew most of the young people, but who was that handsome young man helping Aunt Anne serve the apple cider? Dorothy studied him. How handsome he looked in his white flannels. Never before had she seen such merry blue eyes, such crisp golden hair. In passing her, he accidentally split a drop of cider on her dress. He gripped apologetically. Once she danced with him, but she didn't dare ask him his name. She wished Aunt Anne would come to introduce them.

That night Dorothy fell asleep thinking of him. She awoke with a start. It might be breakfast time. She glanced at her watch and discovered that it was only 4:15. She decided to go down to the pantry to get something to eat. Slipping into a dressing gown, she cautiously crept downstairs and into the pantry. There, sitting on a table, was her blonde young Viking.

He turned to her in surprise, and asked, "Oh, were you hungry too?" "That's what I came down for. Please pass me a sandwich," she said coolly.

"You bet, kid. We'll have a picnic."

Shutting the door carefully, he said "You know, I'm having a better time here than I thought I would. I've sent out here to get acquainted with some fool girl the mater wants me to marry. I've never seen her, but I'll wager she's of the coy, demure type and not as innocent as she pretends to be. She'll find I'm not as easy to bait as she thinks."

"Why," gasped Dorothy, "that's the same pickle I'm in. Mothers' intent on my marrying some silly boy from Regina (an old chum's son)."

"I say, girl, are you sleepy? Well, then, let's go for a walk and forget our troubles."

"All right," she agreed.

"By jove, let's not tell each other our names. It'll be more romantic, don'tcha know. I'll call you Ramona. That just suits you."

"And I'll call you Apollo," said Dorothy.

They walked up and down the beach in the gray dawn until the sun in all its golden glory, rose over the lake.

When Dorothy came back to her room in the early morning, she was too excited to sleep. She lay idly dreaming until the maid came in with the breakfast tray. Besides her toast lay a little note. Her heart missed a beat when she caught the word "Apollo."

"Why wasn't she down for breakfast? Was she feeling alright, and would she meet him for a swim at eleven?"

So he was interested in her, too, Dorothy laughed happily. She told the maid to tell him "O.K., she'd be there."

For two hours they swam and dived and basked in the sun. How like a young god he looked, she thought. The rays of the sun played on his bronzed face and turned his blond hair to gold.

After lunch Dorothy went up to her room to read. She fell asleep over her book and dreamt that the young man had kissed her. She awoke to remember that she did not yet know his name. She would have given anything to have known if he was thinking of her this moment.

She dressed for dinner that night with more than her usual care. She chose a dress of red silk, confined at the waist by a silver ribbon and scarlet rosebuds. Her dainty pumps were scarlet and silver. She wore no jewelry for she knew that her costume set off to perfection the dark beauty of her eyes and hair. As she surveyed herself in the full-length mirror, she felt a thrill of pride. Her naturally red lips curved enticingly. Her brown eyes sparkled.

She came down to dinner with a fast-beating heart. Great was her disappointment therefore, when she glanced down the length of the gleaming table to find that he was not there. She learned that he had been called away on business. Soon after dinner, Dorothy excused herself on the plea of a headache and went to her room.

She threw herself tearfully on the bed. How unkind of him to leave without a word. Perhaps she'd never see him again. Was that boyish ardor in his eyes merely a passing fancy? Suddenly she straightened up. What else could she expect? She hadn't known him much more than twenty-four hours. Why, she didn't even know his name or what he was. In fact, she knew nothing at all about him.

Monday morning Dorothy went back to her work with a heavy heart. She had worked for two weeks in her stuffy office, yet heard nothing from him. What a relief that her mother wasn't at home to talk of Phil Larsen. She'd almost forgotten about him. He must not have been at the party.

On the first afternoon of the third week, the bell boy came in with a note. Was it from him? Her hands trembled as she opened it. It read, "Ramona girl, will you meet me at the beach tonight, 8:30, at the same place we met Saturday night?"

She was at the beach fifteen minutes too early. So was he. He came striding towards her.

"Are you really Dorothy Anderson?" he asked quickly.

"Yes," she breathed.

He sat down on the sand and laughed. Dorothy demanded what he was so funny. He motioned to her to sit down.

"Do you know," he said, "this is the silliest thing that ever happened."

Dorothy sat down. "What's so funny?"

He glanced at her a moment and said slowly and deliberately:

"Well—I am Phil Larsen." He laughed at the comical expression of dismay on her face. Then he told her why he had left her so abruptly.

"You see," he said, "I asked your aunt who you were. I was so stunned that I went away without telling you. Afterwards I thought it all out. You were the one girl I'd sworn to hate all my life. But I saw that mother had not exaggerated when she said that you were lovely."

Then, with his sandy curls resting against her dusky ones, he whispered "Mother's knob best."

And she agreed.

FOURTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

(Issued by Department of Agriculture, Province of Alberta, Edmonton, June 13th, 1931.)

Crop conditions throughout Alberta have been much improved by the showers of the past few days. Reports indicate that almost all parts of the province have received precipitation although the amount varies widely at different points. Showers are reported in the Peace River district and throughout Northern Alberta. Quite heavy rains fell along the main line of the C.P.R. from Calgary to Edmonton and for some distance east. Fair rains were also experienced in the area south of Calgary and around Lethbridge. Further east in the central part of the province, where drought conditions have been severe, showers have been general although some districts have received very little to date.

All seeding is completed with the exception of acreage being sown for green feed. The recent rains have encouraged farmers to increase the area devoted to this purpose. Where drought conditions have been most severe, early sown crops have suffered to a degree from which they cannot fully recover and yields will inevitably be below average. Late sown grains are now making satisfactory progress and with continued favorable conditions should produce satisfactory yields. It is generally considered that the hay crop will be light due to the prolonged period of dry weather. Pastures which in many instances have made very little growth are showing improvement. Farmers are taking advantage of present moisture conditions to sow clover, alfalfa and grass seeds. Special crops, particularly on the irrigated areas, are in good condition and with the continuation of favorable weather should give satisfactory yields.

Slight damage from cutworms is reported in widely scattered areas but this is not a serious factor to date. Several small outbreaks of grasshoppers have occurred and immediate steps have been taken to supply poison to meet this condition. Livestock has suffered considerably from shortage of pasture and water and are not in as good condition as is usual at this season. It is expected, however, that with the present moisture and better pasture conditions, considerable improvement will be made.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACTIVITY NEEDED

Edmonton, June 13.—Maintenance of public health work at the highest possible level of efficiency even in these times of stress was a goal for which all communities should strive.

Mr. Moyer, who is provincial member for Drumheller, jumped to his feet and stated in view of what the witness had said and in fairness to his clients, he would have to take the witness stand himself. He then gave evidence that he had attended with declared Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health, in addressing a Friday session of the fourth annual convention of the Alberta Health Workers' Association. In times such as these, he said, it was particularly desirable that special attention should be given to this form of work.

If it was not possible to give the 100 per cent service as had been the case in former times, then he urged that a municipality should endeavor to at least protect children against smallpox and diphtheria by providing one complete physical examination of all the 160,000 children in Alberta.

About 50 delegates are in attendance from all parts of the province and include those engaged in public health work, such as medical officers of health, sanitary inspectors, nurses, veterinarians and school nurses.

FIVE DRUMHELLER COUNCILLORS ARE TO STAND TRIAL

Drumheller, June 13.—Following preliminary hearing before Magistrate Sanders, five Drumheller aldermen, Allan Hamilton, Lorne C. Jackson, William Kelly, J. W. Webb and Edwin G. Wood were sent up for trial Friday on the charge of wilfully omitting to make provision for the maintenance or partial maintenance of indigent residents of the city of Drumheller, as required by Section 153 of the Town Act, and the Criminal Code of Canada.

The hearing lasted well into the afternoon, while the court room was crowded and scores remained in corridors and outside the provincial building as the hearing proceeded. F. O. Moyer, M.L.A., and A. Macleod Sinclair, K.C., prosecuting and defence counsel respectively, agreed that the evidence against one of the accused would apply to all five, as separate charges have been prepared. The hearing of the charge against Alderman William Kelly was heard understanding between the court and counsel.

Feature of the trial came, when in answer to a question from the magistrate, Harold A. Brown, city clerk, stated as far as he knew there was no arrangement between the city and the governments for relief for single unemployed.

Mr. Moyer, who is provincial member for Drumheller, jumped to his feet and stated in view of what the witness had said and in fairness to his clients, he would have to take the witness stand himself. He then gave evidence that he had attended with

INSECTS AND DISEASES

Insects play an important part in the spread of certain of the communicable diseases. In some cases, the germ which causes the disease lies, during one part of its life, inside the body of the insect, and during the remainder of the cycle, inside the human body.

Yellow fever and malaria are spread only by certain kinds of mosquitoes. In these two diseases, the organisms which cause the disease actually live both in the body of the mosquito and in the human body. Typhus fever has been known under many names, such as pox fever, ship fever and immigrant fever. It is spread by the body louse and is now a rare disease. In this country, on account of greater personal cleanliness, French fever, which was not uncommon among the soldiers during the Great War, is also spread by the body louse.

Remarkable success has been achieved in controlling the insect-borne diseases. In general, this control has been obtained by the annihilation of the insect responsible secured through the destruction of its breeding places. The building of the Panama Canal was a greater sanitary accomplishment than an engineering feat.

In order to build the Canal, it was necessary, first of all, to overcome the yellow fever and malaria which had, up to that time, made the place uninhabitable. Our insect problem in Canada, from the point of view of the spread of disease among human beings is the common house-fly. In the case of the fly, the germ of some particular disease does not spend part of its life inside the insect's body. But because the fly is covered with minute hairs, and because it lights and feeds on all sorts of filth, it carries and transfers the filth, which may be laden with disease germs, from one place to another.

Flies feed anywhere, frequently on discharges from the body. When they light on such matter, it sticks to them and is carried to their next point of rest, which may be the milk jar, the sugar bowl, or the food on the table. If there were disease germs in the filth, these germs are transported by the fly together with the filth.

Flies breed in any collection of waste organic matter, such as garbage, but preferably on horse manure. If such material is properly covered and removed regularly, the breeding of flies is prevented.

Outside privies should be screened so as to prevent the entrance of flies. Houses should be screened, and if flies succeed in entering, notwithstanding precautions, they should be killed. Flies should never be allowed to light on food. The baby's food, particularly, should be protected carefully, as flies may spread summer diarrhoea.

Flies are dangerous. They should be destroyed because they are spreaders of disease.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

TELEGRAM SENT TO CONFERENCE BY UNEMPLOYED

While a mass meeting of unemployed was in progress on the vacant lot across from the government employment office on the corner of Sixth Avenue and Second Street east Thursday afternoon, the following telegram was sent to Premier Brownlee and Mayor Andy Davidson, as assembled at the unemployment conference in Edmonton:

"Supporting the deputation which will see you today, a mass meeting of workers assembled in Calgary on June 11 demand immediate and adequate relief to all unemployed workers, transient workers included, without discrimination, in regard to length of residence, immigrant status or on account of their activities in the working class movement.

"Unless relief is immediately granted, workers must help themselves. They will not die at the time when warehouses are full of all kinds of food and other necessities of the workers. We have produced the wealth and we have the right to live."—Albertan.

ROAD WORK GOING WELL

MINISTER OF HIGHWAYS SAYS

Work on all provincial government road projects is progressing satisfactorily and until the rains of the last few days delayed operations, rapid construction had been the order of the day, according to Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

Asked regarding the success with which the scheme for employing 60 per cent local resident labor was working out to the satisfaction of all. The percentage is being carefully followed except in those municipal districts where there are an insufficient number of farmers equipped with motor trucks to handle the work.

All gravel for the various projects is being hauled by truck.

But "Old Dobbin" is not being neglected. On the grading of the highway running east from the city limits to Vegreville, there are no fewer than 300 horses working. This grade is well past Brenner now and is being pushed forward rapidly.

All pieces of work are expected to be completed well within the scheduled time.—Bulletin.

Obituary

MRS. MINNIE REMUS

Mrs. Minnie Remus, an old timer of the Millet district, passed away on June 16th, at the age of eighty-eight years. Deceased had been in ill health for the past twelve years. She was born in Germany, and emigrated to the United States in 1870. At the age of fifty-seven years she came to make her home on the farm west of Millet, where she resided until her death. W. J. BRADY HEADS M.D. ASSOCIATION

Edmonton, June 11.—More and better human service could be rendered by municipalities if they would co-operate more with the state by interesting themselves in a Christian way in those of their people who were in difficult straits, said Hon. J. F. Lynnburn, attorney-general, in an address Wednesday to the annual meeting of the Alberta Association of Municipal District Secretaries-Treasurers.

Particularly in respect to mothers' allowances and similar matters in which the municipalities were directly concerned, the attorney-general pointed out, a greater interest of this kind would not only return dividends of greater value than dollars, but would also actually save money by a closer fusion of mutual interests.

Mr. Lynnburn paid tribute to the value of the work being done by the municipal district secretaries, which, though often thankless, bore a direct relationship to public welfare and the maintenance of social life and worthwhile institutions in every community.

SPECIAL CLASSES FOR FARM YOUTHS AT EXHIBITION

The Edmonton Exhibition is the farmer's own exhibition, and this year an effort has been made to make the Prize List particularly attractive along this line, with special classes for farm boys, girls and women, in co-acting, butter-making, gardening and needlework.

Many special features are being staged during the Exhibition, July 13-18, including a basketball tournament, open only to competitors living outside of Edmonton.

A horse-shoe pitching tournament will also be held, under the auspices of the Alberta Horse Shoe Pitchers' Association. A feature of this tournament will be the Alberta Single Championship. Interested players should write for rule book and information to E. L. Holmes, Secretary, Arena, Edmonton.

A trip to the Edmonton Exhibition is not necessarily expensive. The railroads are offering reduced railway rates, or visitors may motor in to the Edmonton Exhibition, bring tents and live in the free auto camp; tents may be rented through the Exhibition management if ordered in advance. The grandstand attractions were never more worth seeing than this year, with a magnificent Musical Review, the Fiesta of 1931, Scotch Highlanders Band, and a number of outstanding vaudeville acts.

It is expected that it will be possible to recover more than one-and-a-half million tons of steel and iron, suitable for other uses, from the wrecking of these cars. The plan will guarantee the destruction of used motor cars by certain designated scrapers as they come to them from dealers who have taken the cars in trade.
